Ecore is the Ideal Flooring Solution for Rehabilitation Center to put Pets and their Owners at Ease.

The Veterinary Orthopedic Sports Medicine group (VOSM) is an organization committed to providing a standard of care and service in veterinary orthopedic sports medicine and rehabilitation that rivals and surpasses what is available to humans.” With the construction of their new orthopedic sports medicine and rehabilitation center in Annapolis Junction, MD., the VOSM group was in pursuit of design that would provide practical support for the unique health needs of each visiting animal and distinguish them as a technologically and medically advanced veterinary facility.

The VOSM clinic employs highly developed surgical equipment and advanced medical procedures while seeking to maintain a warm, comfortable, and open environment to make both suffering pets and their owners feel at ease. As a flooring solution for these specialized design objectives, the VOSM clinic chose to install ECOsurfaces.

ECOsurfaces delivered durability, versatility, and easy maintenance capabilities to VOSM’s new orthopedic and sports medicine facility. The resilient characteristics of ECOsurfaces’ composition rubber surfacing made it ideal to withstand the inevitable scratch and wear marks incurred from visiting pets. Of further appeal was ECOsurfaces’ versatile composition, enabling it to be used effectively in many applications including a rehabilitation gym and a professional interior lobby.

As an organization consistently interacting with animals, VOSM also found the ECOsurfaces’ ease of maintenance provided a more consistent visual appeal and reduced preservation time and costs. In addition, ECOsurfaces’ extensive colors enabled coordinated design across the facility’s diverse applications. The result: a stunning and practical orthopedic sports medicine and rehabilitation center that comforts pets and owners with a warm environment and provides them with state-of-the-art veterinary care.
